The University of Alabama School of Law Graduate Department offers the LL.M. in Taxation and the LL.M. Concentration in Business Transactions online for outstanding candidates who cannot attend classes on campus.

LL.M. in Taxation (online)

The Graduate Tax program provides an educational opportunity to obtain an advanced degree in tax law that is both broad-based but also in-depth. Students can choose electives allowing for concentrations in either Estate Planning or Business Tax.

LL.M. Concentration in Business Transactions (online)

The Graduate Business Concentration trains lawyers to serve the needs of clients throughout the life cycle of a business venture. The program offers technical training and skills-based instruction all through live, interactive online technologies.

Online Technology

The Tax and Business LL.M. Programs are offered through interactive internet technologies. Through the use of innovative technology, your class is delivered to your desk—work or home, your choice.

- Real-time learning
- Fully interactive video and audio
- See and speak with the instructor
- Chat with your classmates
- View and even share the whiteboard

Faculty Profiles

Students learn from distinguished professors and experienced attorneys nationwide who offer the perfect mix of theory and practice.
