

Dear Colleagues,

Mark your calendars: The Cross-Disciplinary Legal Studies Program at The University of Alabama School of Law would like to invite you to join us for a one-day symposium on decision theory and the law that will take place on Friday, April 13th, 2012.

The symposium will take place at The University of Alabama School of Law and is part of the Program's commitment to fostering cutting-edge research that focuses on the interaction and integration of diverse academic disciplines as they relate to law, legal theory, and public policy.

We have a set of great speakers from the fields of philosophy, psychology, economics and law that includes:

Dean José Luis Bermúdez, College of Liberal Arts, Texas A&M University;

Professor Keith Hylton, Boston University School of Law;

Professor Paul Pecorino, Culverhouse College of Commerce, The University of Alabama;

Professor Jeff Rachlinski, Cornell University Law School;

Professor Alex Stein, Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law.

Click here for more information about the Cross-Disciplinary Legal Studies Program.

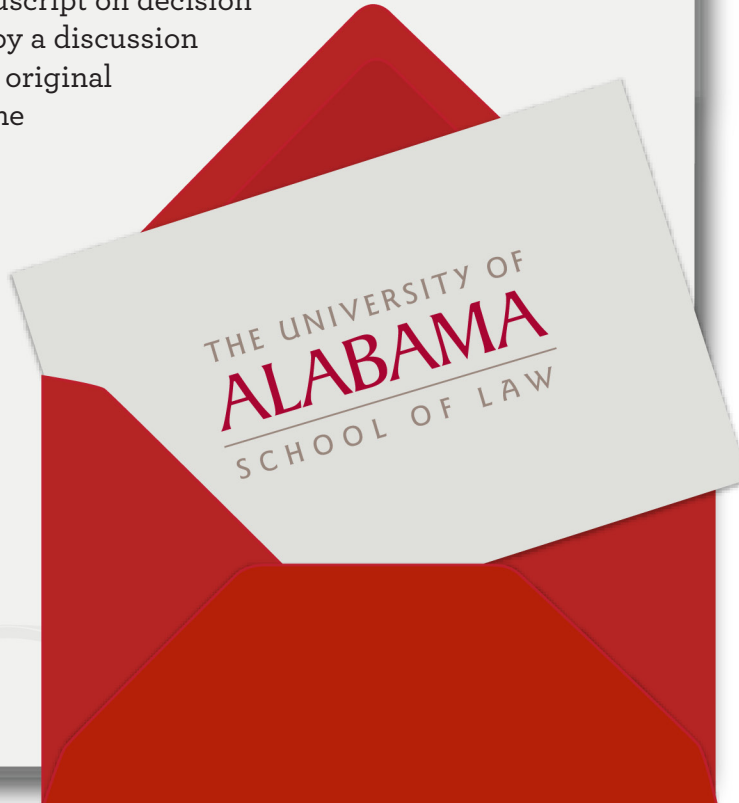

Each speaker will present an unpublished manuscript on decision theory, and each presentation will be followed by a discussion and questions from the audience. A copy of the original unpublished manuscripts will be available on the Program's website.

We hope that you will be able to join us and take part in what is sure to be an exciting and productive scholarly event.

Sincerely,

J. Shahar Dillbary
