In Memoriam: Frank M. Johnson, Jr.

Judge Frank Johnson in the Long Run
Kathryn Abrams
Ronald Wright 1381

Honorable Frank M. Johnson, Jr.
Judge Ira DeMent 1395

Judge Frank M. Johnson's Constitutional Ideals in Action
Tony A. Freyer 1398

Memorial to Honorable Frank M. Johnson, Jr.
M. Roland Nachman, Jr. 1406

Judge Frank M. Johnson, Jr.
Frank Sikora 1408

Frank Minis Johnson, Jr., as a Colleague
Judge Gerald Bard Tjoflat 1414

Some Thoughts on Agricultural Liens under the New U.C.C. Article 9
Donald W. Baker 1417

Milestones in Habeas Corpus: Part II Leo Frank Lives: Untangling the Historical Roots of Meaningful Federal Habeas Corpus Review of State Convictions
Eric M. Freedman 1467

Milestones in Habeas Corpus: Part III
Brown v. Allen: The Habeas Corpus Revolution That Wasn't
Eric M. Freedman 1541
Commentary

Contextualizing and Analyzing Alabama’s Approach to Gay and Lesbian Custody Rights

Elizabeth Erin Bosquet 1625

Character Evidence and Sex Crimes in Alabama: Moving Toward the Adoption of New Federal Rules 413, 414 & 415

John David Collins 1651

Cotnam v. Commissioner and the Income Tax Treatment of Contingency-Based Attorneys’ Fees — The Alabama Attorney’s Charging Lien Meets Lucas v. Earl Head-on

Thad Austin Davis 1683

Modern Day Loan Sharking: Deferred Presentment Transactions & the Need for Regulation

Lisa Blaylock Moss 1725

Index to Volume 51 1757
FRANK M. JOHNSON, JR.

Copyright, Photo by The Birmingham News, 2000. All rights reserved. Reprinted with permission.
The Alabama Law Review gratefully acknowledges the assistance of The Honorable Eric G. Bruggink, Class of 1975, Judge of the United States Court of Federal Claims. Judge Bruggink was responsible for the convening of the Symposium on April 29-30, 1999, from which the articles that follow originated. While in law school, he was Student Work Editor of the Review, and during the quarter century since receiving his law degree he has continued to be a strong supporter of The University of Alabama School of Law and the Review.